Legal Notice

Were You Incarcerated in a Federal Correctional Institution Between November 1, 1992 and the present and placed in Administrative Segregation?

A Lawsuit May Affect You. Please Read this Carefully.

You could be affected by a class action lawsuit involving the Federal Prison System.

The Ontario Superior Court of Justice decided that a class action on behalf of a “Class,” of people, that could include you, is allowed to go forward. This notice summarizes your rights and options. You have a choice of whether to stay in the Class or not. There is no money available now and no guarantee that there will be.

What is this case about?

The lawsuit claims the Government of Canada improperly subjected inmates to Administrative Segregation and were treated improperly by Correctional Services of Canada staff. The lawsuit claims that these people were unduly emotionally, physically, and psychologically traumatized by their experiences at the Federal Penitentiaries. The Government of Canada denies these claims. The Court has not decided whether the Class or Canada is right. The lawyers for the Class will have to prove their claims in Court.

If you are having a difficult time dealing with these issues you can call 1[number] (TTY: [number]) for assistance.

Who is included?

All persons, except Excluded Persons, as defined below, who were involuntarily subjected to a period of Prolonged Administrative Segregation, as defined below, at a Federal Institution, as defined below, between November 1, 1992 and the present, and were alive as of March 3, 2015.

“Excluded Persons” are defined as:

All offenders incarcerated at a Federal Institution who were diagnosed by a medical doctor with an Axis I Disorder (excluding substance abuse disorders), or Borderline Personality Disorder, who suffered from their disorder in a manner described in Appendix “A”, and reported such during their incarceration, where the diagnosis by a medical doctor occurred either before or during incarceration in a federal institution and the offenders were incarcerated between November 1, 1992 and the present and were alive as of July 20, 2013; and

All persons who were involuntarily subjected to Prolonged Administrative Segregation, as defined below, only at a Federal Institution situated in the Province of Quebec after February 24, 2013. Persons who were involuntarily subjected to Prolonged Administrative Segregation at Federal Institutions situated in Quebec and another Canadian province, or at a Federal Institution situated in Quebec prior to February 24, 2013, are not Excluded Persons.

“Administrative Segregation” is defined in sections 31 to 37 of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, S.C. 1992, c. 20.

“Prolonged Administrative Segregation” is defined as the practice of subjecting an inmate to Administrative Segregation for a period of at least fifteen (15) consecutive days.

“Federal Institutions” are defined as the system of Federal correctional facilities across Canada that is administered by the Correctional Service of Canada, a Federal Government body.

Who represents the class?

The Court has appointed Koskie Minsky LLP and McCarthy Tétrault LLP to represent the Class as “Class Counsel”. You don’t have to pay Class Counsel, or anyone else, to participate. Instead, if they get money or benefits for the Class, they may ask for lawyers’ fees and costs, which would be deducted from any money obtained, or to be paid separately by Canada. You may hire your own lawyer to appear for you, but if you do, you may have to pay that lawyer.

What are your options?

Stay in the Class: To stay in the Class, you do not have to do anything. If money or benefits are obtained, you will be notified about how to ask for a share. You will be legally bound by all orders and judgments, and you will not be able to sue Canada about the legal claims in this case.

Staying in this Class will not impact the residence or supports received by class members from community based agencies which are funded by any government.

Get out of the Class: If you want to keep your rights to sue Canada individually over the claims in this case you need to remove yourself. If you remove yourself, you cannot get money or benefits from this lawsuit if any are awarded. To ask to be removed, send a letter to the address below, postmarked no later than [date], that says you want to be removed from Reddock v. Canada. Include your name, address, telephone number, and signature. You can also get an Opt Out Form at [website]. You must mail your removal request or Opt Out Form postmarked by _____ to: [address], or send it by email at: [email].

HOW CAN I GET MORE INFORMATION?

Go to [website], call toll-free [number] (TTY: [number]) or write to [address], or by email at: [email].

Getting information to people who need it:

We ask for the help of family members, caregivers and friends of Class members in getting information to Class members who have trouble reading or understanding this notice. More information about this lawsuit is available at the website or by calling the toll-free number. Please show this notice to people who are impacted by this lawsuit or their caregivers.

BASIC INFORMATION

1. Why is there a notice?

This lawsuit has been “certified” as a Class Action. This means that the lawsuit meets the requirements for class actions and may proceed to trial. If you are included, you may have legal rights and options before the Court decides whether the claims being made against Canada on your behalf are correct. This notice explains all of these things.

A judge of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice is currently overseeing this case. The case is known as Reddock v. Canada Court File No. CV-17-570771-00CP. The person who sued is called the Plaintiff. Canada is the Defendant.

2. What is this lawsuit about?

The lawsuit claims that Canada improperly subjected inmates to prolonged solitary confinement by placing them in Administrative Segregation for fifteen consecutive (15) days or longer. The lawsuit claims residents of the Federal Correctional Institutions were unduly emotionally, physically, and psychologically traumatized by their experiences at the Federal Penitentiaries. Canada denies these claims. The Court has not decided whether the Plaintiff or Canada is right. The lawyers for the Plaintiff will have to prove their claims in Court.

If you are having a difficult time dealing with these issues you can call [number] (TTY: [number]) for assistance.

3. Why is this a class action?

In a class action a person called the “representative plaintiff” (in this case, Jullian Reddock) sued on behalf of people who have similar claims. All of these people are a “class” or “class members.” The court resolves the issues for all class members in one case, except for those who remove themselves from the class.

4. Who is a member of the Class?

All persons, as defined below, who were involuntarily subjected to a period of Prolonged Administrative Segregation, as defined below, at a Federal Institution, as defined below, between November 1, 1992 and the present, and were alive as of March 3, 2015.

“Excluded Persons” are defined as

All offenders incarcerated at a Federal Institution who were diagnosed by a medical doctor with an Axis I Disorder (excluding substance abuse disorders), or Borderline Personality Disorder, who suffered from their disorder in a manner described in

Appendix "A", and reported such during their incarceration, where the diagnosis by a medical doctor occurred either before or during incarceration in a federal institution and the offenders were incarcerated between November 1, 1992 and the present and were alive as of July 20, 2013 and

All persons who were involuntarily subjected to Prolonged Administrative Segregation, as defined below, only at a Federal Institution situated in the Province of Quebec after February 24, 2013. Persons who were involuntarily subjected to Prolonged Administrative Segregation at Federal Institutions situated in Quebec and another Canadian province, or at a Federal Institution situated in Quebec prior to February 24, 2013, are not Excluded Persons.

“Administrative Segregation” is defined as the practice of placing an inmate in a small cell and denying them any meaningful human contact for at least 22 hours a day, pursuant to sections 31 to 37 of the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, S.C. 1992, c. 20.

“Prolonged Administrative Segregation” is defined as the practice of subjecting an inmate to Administrative Segregation for a period of at least fifteen (15) consecutive days.

“Federal Institutions” are defined as the system of Federal correctional facilities across Canada that is administered by the Correctional Service of Canada, a Federal Government body.

5. What is the Plaintiff asking for?

The Plaintiff is asking for money or other benefits for the Class. He is also asking for attorneys' fees and costs, plus interest.

6. Is there any money available now?

No money or benefits are available now because the Court has not yet decided whether Canada did anything wrong, and the two sides have not settled the case. There is no guarantee that money or benefits will ever be obtained. If they are, you will be notified about how to ask for your share.

YOUR RIGHTS AND OPTIONS

You must decide whether to stay in the Class or whether to remove yourself before a possible trial, and you have to decide this by [INSERT DATE].

7. What happens if I do nothing at all?

If you do nothing you will automatically remain in the lawsuit. You will be bound by all Court orders, good or bad. If any benefit is awarded, you may need to take action in order to receive any benefits.

8. What if I don't want to be in the Lawsuit?

If you do not want to be in the lawsuit, you must remove yourself – this is sometimes referred to as “opting out.” If you remove yourself, you will not receive any benefit that may be obtained from the lawsuit. You will not be bound by any Court orders and you keep your right to sue Canada as an individual regarding the issues in this case.

To remove yourself, send a letter that says you want to be removed from the Class in Reddock v. Canada. Include your name, address, telephone number, and signature. You can also get an Opt Out Form at [website]. You must mail your Removal Request postmarked by [INSERT DATE] to: [address], or by email at: [email].

Call [number] (TTY: [number]) if you have any questions about how to get out of the Class.

9. If a former inmate remains in the Class will this impact their current care placement?

No. Staying in this Class will not impact the current placement for any members who are still under supervised care.

THE LAWYERS REPRESENTING YOU

10. Do I have a lawyer in the case?

Yes. The Court has appointed Koskie Minsky LLP and McCarthy Tétrault LLP from Toronto to represent you and other Class Members as “Class Counsel.” You will not be charged for these lawyers. If you want to be represented by another lawyer, you may hire one to appear in Court for you at your own expense.

11. How will the lawyers be paid?

Class Counsel will only be paid if they win a trial or if there is a settlement. The Court has to also approve their request to be paid. The fees and expenses could be deducted from any money obtained for the Class, or paid separately by the defendant.

A TRIAL

12. How and when will the Court decide who is right?

If the lawsuit is not dismissed or settled, the Plaintiff will have to prove their claims at a trial that will take place in Toronto. During the trial, a court will hear all of the evidence, so that a decision can be reached about whether the Plaintiff or Canada is right about the claims in the lawsuit. There is no guarantee that the Plaintiff will win any money or benefits for the Class.

13. Will I get money after the trial?

If the Plaintiff obtains money or benefits as a result of a trial or settlement, you will be notified about how to ask for a share or what your other options are at that time. These things are not known right now. Important information about the case will be posted on the website, [website], as it becomes available.
